Georgia Postal History Society Announces the Digitizing of the Society's Journal

The officers of the Georgia Postal History Society are pleased to announce the availability in a digitized format of all issues of the Society's journal.

The G. P. H. S. Bulletin was the first journal of the Georgia Postal History Society. The first issue was published in May 1985. The first three volumes were titled G. P. H. S. Bulletin. The second three volumes were titled Bulletin.

The first issue of Georgia Post Roads was published in September 1991. The stated purpose was "not as a replacement for the GPHS Bulletin but rather a means to keep the lines of communication open between members of the society and to provide timely information of interest to all members."

The digitized issues of the journal are available on the Georgia Postal History Society's web page at <http://www.sefsc.org/georgia-postal-history-society.html>.

The issues are also available on the American Philatelic Society's library web page at <https://stamps.org/services/library>.
