

Knoxville Philatelic Society – Then and Now

The first Knoxville Philatelic Society was founded in 1895, and nothing is known of a stamp club in Knoxville between 1898 and 1980, when the Expo City Stamp Club was founded in association with the 1980 Knoxville World's Fair. Since 1980, the club, with its successor names, Knoxville Stamp Club (1983) and Knoxville Philatelic Society (1994) has been an active entity in philately in the southeastern United States.

This exhibit shows important artifacts of the original society and of our club of the 19th, 20th and 21st centuries. We hope that you enjoy our exhibit and invite all viewers to become members of KPS!

The Knoxville Philatelic Society.
KNOXVILLE, TENNESSEE.

ORGANIZED  DEC. 1895.

Dr. S. B. Boyd, President, Knoxville, Tenn.
C. G. Schrader, Vice President, Knoxville, Tenn.
Henry Fenton, Secretary and Treasurer, Drawer, 9, Knoxville, Tenn.

DIRECTORS.
Chas. Ducloux, C. P. Galyon.

EXCHANGE SUPERINTENDENT.
Chas. Waring.

OFFICIAL ORGAN.
THE HOME WORKER.

The object of the Society is to promote a friendly intercourse between the members, by holding monthly meetings, when each will have an opportunity of increasing their collections or disposing of their duplicates. At these monthly gatherings, various Philatelic subjects will be discussed, tending to the development of Philatelic knowledge. Many collectors are entirely at sea in the mysteries of perforations, water-marks, plate numbers, varieties, etc., and many "a good thing" has been lost through ignorance.

There are quite a number of collectors in this city, with collections ranging from 10,000 varieties down, and the aim of the Society is to enroll every one, as a member, at the same time, it is intended to welcome collectors from all points.

The Exchange Department can be utilized by members for the sale or exchange of stamps and books to hold 120 stamps will be supplied by the Superintendent at the nominal price of 5c. each.

Applications for membership can be obtained from the Secretary, H. Fenton, Drawer 9, Knoxville, Tenn., Initiation fee, 25c. Annual dues, 25c.

Goals and activities are little changed in more than 100 years, but dues are more.

Chas. Waring.

A HOME WORKER representative had an occasion to call on Mr. Chas. Waring the Sales Manager of The Knoxville Philatelic Society, at his office on Clinch St. the other day and found him eagerly bending over a large album of stamps.

"Mr. Waring, you certainly have a fine collection of stamps."

"Yes, I suppose I have about as fine a collection as there is in Knoxville, at least, I have a greater number of varieties. This album here is only one of six in which I have my varieties mounted, and if you will notice, I keep them well arranged for ready reference."

"When and how did you first become interested in stamp collecting?"

"I first began collecting stamps when a boy and have been an earnest devotee ever since."

In the spring of 1851, while still a small boy, I paid a visit to a lawyer relative in Ireland who had a large correspondence in Great Britain and colonies and now and then a letter from a foreign country. He did not believe in giving money to small boys without some return, so he paid me for small services; one of my duties being to cut up sheets of postage stamps (then unperforated) and arrange them in boxes for use.

I soon began to admire the different colors and designs, and commenced to paste into a pocket-book the prettiest of used stamps found in the waste basket, or picked up here and there.

From this time I collected almost all used stamps I come across and several now in my collection have been in my possession ever since.

In 1856, while at school near London England, I gave an old lady friend 5000 stamps to help get an orphan into an asylum; Wish I had them now to sort over.

During my college and professional years I was too busy to give much time to stamps; but held on to those I had and about 1874 in Knoxville, I began to arrange my stamps alphabetically in a blank book, having no catalogue to guide me. Soon after this I procured a catalogue and started to buy stamps to fill up vacancies.

Excerpt of an article featuring an interview with KPS sales manager Charles Waring in the Home Worker.

Knoxville Philatelic Society – 1890's

Excerpts from The Home Worker

The new Canadian Jubilee Stamps, with which all are doubtless now familiar, may cause a sort of a boom in the stamp business in Canada, similar to that started in our own country by the Columbian series. Surely it will awake new interest in the hearts of philatelists of older times, whose stampic fever is now dormant. The design on this set of stamps is such as will immediately catch the eye of an "outsider" and perhaps he may be converted to a collector, sooner or later.

We have been requested by certain persons to support in the HOME WORKER certain political candidates. This we must refuse, as the HOME WORKER is strictly neutral in all such affairs, and does not approve of publishing political "stuff" in connection with philately.

Why she Tolerates Stamps.

A collector's wife being asked if she took the same interest in stamps as her husband, replied: "I hate the sight of stamps; but my old man's business occupies all his day time, and the mounting of them in his album and other mysterious performances connected with them keeps him at home nearly every night. Occasionally the odor of benzine is worse than the cigar smoke and the maid complains of the difficulty of removing those little sticky bits of paper from the carpet."

THE HOME WORKER

is First-class. Its readers buy stamps; and if you want to sell them you should place your ad., and do it NOW, and receive good position.

A look through our Advertising Pages will do as much to convince you of the value of THE HOME WORKER as an Advertising Medium as anything we could say. It pays them. It will pay you.

Knoxville Philatelic Society – 1890's

KPS had its own sales division in the 1890's, and this circuit book is notable not only by its stamps, but also by the fact that it was printed by Charles Galyon, an early officer of the club and an active local dealer.

Scott 69 - $0.08
2012 catalog - $450.00

The sales book contains stamps ranging from 1842 to 1887, ending with the 1887 Victoria Jubilee issue.

Many of the earlier stamps have faults, but at the then-prices of pennies per stamp, the price indicated on the cover – $11.92 – is fun to contemplate in today's stamp market.

Expo City Stamp Club – 1980-1983

The Expo City Stamp Club was founded in 1980, at a meeting of local philatelists at Midsouth Philatelics, the Knoxville stamp shop of Wilma and Stan Brookshier. The new club was named for the upcoming 1982 Knoxville World's Fair.

Founding Members were:

Jim Bowles
Wilma & Stan Brookshier
Ralph Kramer
Les Lebo

Chester Massey
D. Todd McDougal
Robert Miller
Jo & Ron Mynatt

Ray Ritter
Bruce Roberts
William Walbert
Greg Ziebell

KPS salutes Jo Mynatt and Bruce Roberts, charter members, who remain current members! Both have contributed many years of efforts to the club and the philatelic community.

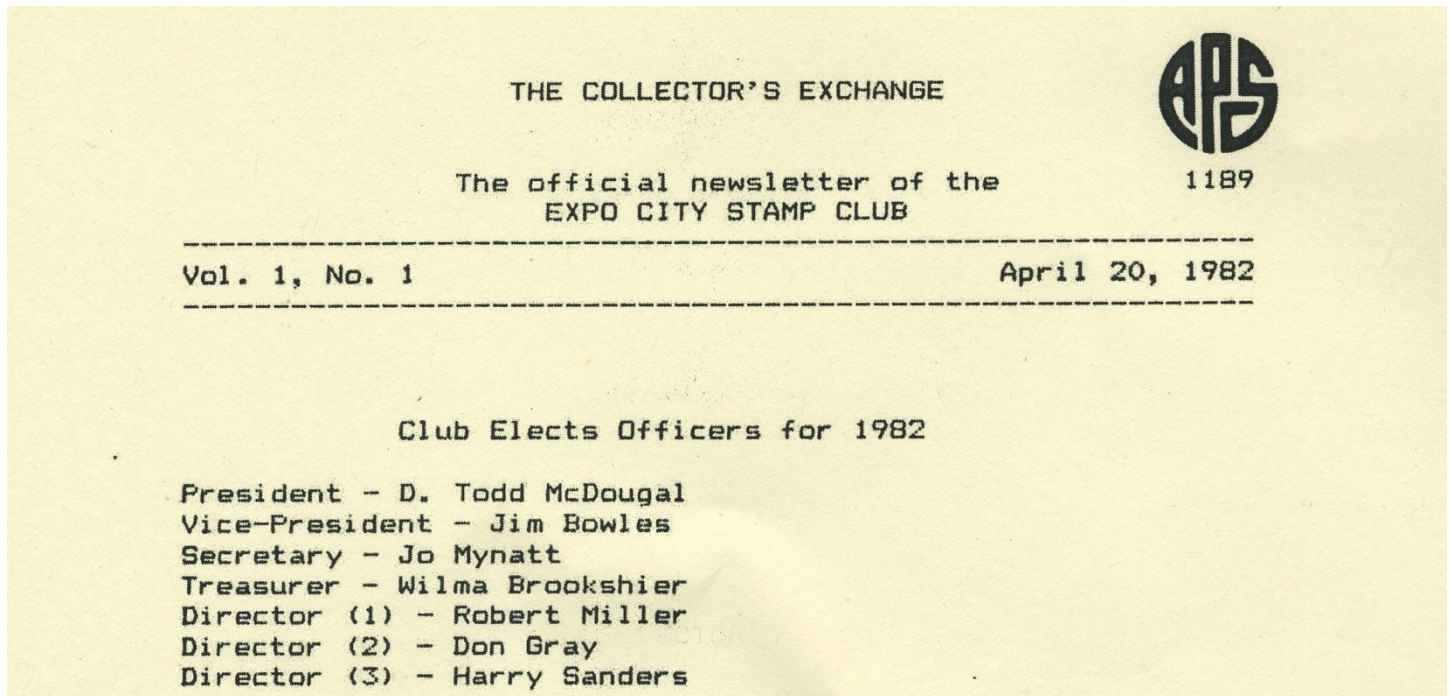

The First Day Ceremony for the World's Fair Stamps was held in Knoxville, and by a quirk, only club members received official invitations to the ceremony!

Highlights in many issues were the 'telic tic'les created by club member Dean Treadway.

Dean actually purchased an imperforate roll of the 20c Flag over the Supreme Court from a post office in Knoxville. He sold pairs to club members at a great price.

A cartoon was sparked by the TVA stamp. Only club members were invited to the ceremony!

The club met at the United American Bank branch building in Bearden, then at the Mechanicsville/Lonsdale/Beaumont community center, then at Calvary Baptist Church, and most recently at the Tennessee Valley Unitarian Universalist Church.

Knoxville Philatelic Society – 1992-present

The club was renamed the Knoxville Philatelic Society in 1992, and that name, the same as that of the 1890's organization, remains today.

Once or twice a year, KPS members Bruce Roberts and Thomas Lane attend a Regency Stamp Auction to buy large lots of stamps that are then priced individually and sold to KPS members.

Shopping the Regency lots takes place at all KPS meetings, and sale prices are usually about 20%-30% of Scott Catalog.

A Brief Look at the Philatelic History of Haiti

By Tom Broadhead

The world's attention was drawn to Haiti, one of the poorest nations, when it was wracked by an earthquake on January 12, 2010. Philatelically, Haiti has a richly beautiful history of stamp issues going back to its first stamps in 1881, which featured the head of "Liberty" wearing a typical bandana-like island head cover (Scott #1 at left). Most later nineteenth century issues are beautifully engraved depictions of the country's coat of arms (Scott #38 at right) and various presidents of the country.

My Civil War Heritage

By Charlie Wade

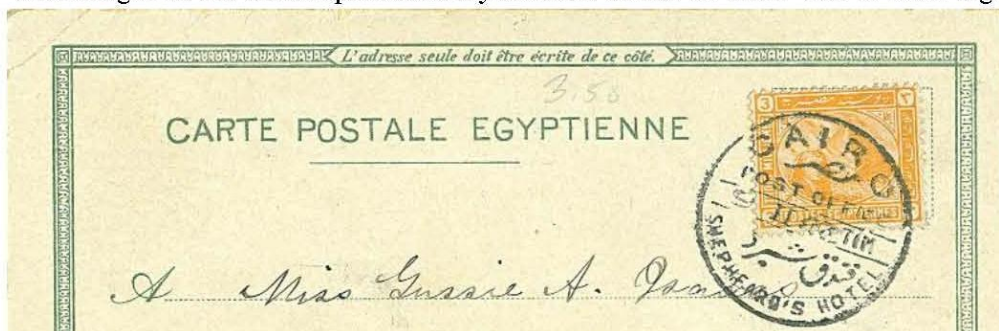

With the sesquicentennial of The Civil War, there will be issues of new US stamps. But stamps commemorating this period's events and heroes have been released since 1867 with the issue of the 15c Abraham Lincoln (Scott 77). Stamps can commemorate more than Civil War heroes, battles, and sites. In 1949 the United States honored veterans of both the Grand Army of the Republic (Scott 985) and the Confederacy (Scott 998). My heritage includes ancestors from both of these armies.

Shepherd's Hotel - Cairo

By Elaine Evans

Delightful surprises are often offered on stamped postcards. In 1902, one such postcard was mailed from Cairo, Egypt to St. Louis, Missouri. It bears two values of 1884 Egyptian stamps, a one millieme and a three millieme, with images of the Great Sphinx and Pyramid of Khufu on each. But of more significant interest is a clear, hand stamped cancel of Cairo's famous Shepherd's Hotel, once the social center of Cairo. The cancel makes one think of the hotel's beginnings, where rustling taffeta swirled at dinner dances and cups of tea were sipped at tables on its famous terrace. The place
